O quiry as to how Mississippi Valley insurance company stock failed to realize more than 60 at the auction on Thursday, when they figure on the books of the company at 115? The reply is that the shares offered are owned by parties connected with whom bankrupt proceedings are in operation, a fact aff cting the buyer's title to his purchase.

Memphis sixes, one-coupon.... Nicoison Payement scrip...... IN THE COTTON MARKET there was a fair demand yesterday, principally from spinners, but it ran almost altogether on grades from good ordinary to low mid-dling, and of those grades the show on the tables was again very light. Prices continued unchanged, as did also all the telegraphic quotations, and the quietness of our own market appears to have characterized the other markets also. The proceedings of the cotton exchange were varied by the occurrence of a sale of futures—100 bales, October delivery, low middling basis, terms private. Among the sales to-day were nearly 350 bales middling at 16c. There is a good inquiry for good stained cottons; they are considered the cheapest, for the money they cost, of any in this market; and the inquiry for them will probably become more animated in consequence. The following prices, from actual sales, were reported in answer to our inqui-Stained cottons at 13 e; low ordinary, 10½e; ordinary, 11½e(al1½e; strict ordinary, 13e; good ordinary, 13½e; strict good ordinary, 1½(al4½e; low middling, 15½e; middling, 16e. Feed offers very little of interest, as bran, oats and hav are all languid; the stock of the two former is very slight, and only ordered lots are arriving. Hay remains firm, but there is no great activity; the St. Louis Globe says of it: "Hay has been growing lower in stock, and the consequence has been a demand for all qualities, choice, of course, taking the recedence." Corn was in request, and and 718 sacks sold at 81 je, and 500 sacks, that are to arrive to-day, sold at the same figure. Commeal showed some made to put it up to $3 60; the regular rate, however, was $3 65, and 400 barrels sold at 53c, and 55c. DRY GOODS.

BY TELEGRAPH. NEW YORK, April 10,—There was a general duliness in all departments of trade to-day jobbing branches being exceptionally quiet. The market for cotton goods was quiet but sleady at ruling quotations. Prints are in fair demand for plece lots. Ginghams are dull. Dress goods are less active. Shawis are moving slowly from first hands and jobbing prices are irregular. Black silks are selling freely at low prices. Woolens are very duit.
